

2011 Ethics Science Fair Awards

Russyan Mabeza, 3rd place
12th Grade, Morse High School

“What appeals to me about this project is not only its simple innovation, but the opportunity it gives to address certain issues in our world, one of which is pollution. Indeed, we have progressed a lot as a nation, and our industrializing powers have truly expanded. However, we have forgotten certain issues and consequences that come with it. The large American economy brings many benefits such as stimulating the job creation and increasing opportunities for Americans to live better lives. However, we fail to see its harmful effects to the regional and global environment.”
